

As Director of Hemp Markets at PanXchange, RJ is responsible for the firms' hemp exchange and industry-leading pricing platform. RJ brings extensive experience in international and domestic trade through previously serving as a market analyst at PanXchange, extensively researching various commodities (including metals, agriculture, energy, and industrial chemicals as part of the firms' platform development team.